Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," "run-down" or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving powers.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Cures obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medical roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities.

Your druggists sell the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

... FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send ... in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

FINANCIAL

THE MONEY QUESTION IS MANY SIDED.

On of the phrases is "How to avoid the embarrassing situation of being short of ready cash, though you may have money at home." If you have a check book and a banking account you are never caught in such a situation. Why not carry a checking account with this Corporation? Your money is safer in bank than anywhere else. A bank account teaches, helps and encourages you to save. Paying bills by check is safer, as the check becomes a receipt for the debt it pays. A check book is more convenient to carry than a wallet filled with legal tender. If your check book is lost the Bank will give you another; when you lose your wallet the story is different. To have a bank account and pay by check gives you better standing among business men and strengthens one's credit. Study this question—look at it as long as you will; the opening of a Bank account is desirable and advantageous, and we tender you our services and facilities. CALL TO SEE US.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 15, 1906.

IN AN evasive letter the President last night gave out his defense of the charges of perfidy and double dealing made against him in connection with the railroad rate bill. There is not one word in it to show whether or not ex-Senator Chandler told the truth when he said that the President had stated to him that Senators Knox, Spooner and Foraker "were trying to injure or defeat the rate bill by ingenious constitutional arguments." On Saturday Senator Lodge told the Senate that the President had telephoned to him that this statement was a "deliberate and unqualified falsehood." There is not a word in the statement to show whether the President entered into an agreement with Senators Tillman and Bailey whereby a combination was to be effected of 26 democratic and 20 republican votes to pass the rate bill. There is no adequate explanation of the President's precipitate surrender to the railroad senators and his desertion, without notice, of the democrats with whom he had formed a secret combination. Accompanying the President's statement which is in the form of a letter to Senator Allison is a letter from Attorney General Moody to the President that is along exactly the same lines as the President's statement. The whole document is half confession and half denial of the charge of perfidy made by Senator Tillman. It is admitted that the President, as charged by Senator Tillman, secretly negotiated for democratic votes to pass the rate bill with a limited court review amendment, but it is denied that the President ever pledged himself unalterably to any particular amendment. It is admitted that the President summoned ex-Senator Chandler to the White House and that Mr. Chandler was engaged to act as a go-between for the President and Mr. Tillman, but the President declares that the invitation to Mr. Chandler was extended only after the President had been asked to see Mr. Chandler as the representative of Tillman. Attorney General Moody in his statement of his negotiations with Messrs. Tillman and Bailey admits that he did write out and send to Mr. Bailey a court review amendments for the rate bill, but he denies that the President was pledged to that amendment to the exclusion of any other provision. He further declares that he advised the President not to finally commit himself to any amendment. As to his acceptance of the Allison amendment, President Roosevelt says he is still of the opinion that the specific court review provision makes no material difference in the Hepburn bill as it originally passed the House. As an excuse for the President severing negotiations with the democrats, it is asserted by Mr. Moody that the President was informed by several senators that the democrats could not agree among themselves. In the end Mr. Moody further bemuddles the whole situation by saying that he has never been able to give a decided opinion to the President upon the constitutionality of the rate bill. The whole explanation is intensely disappointing to the President's friends. The general feeling is that the President is left in a worse light as a result of his statement than if he had not made it at all. He has dodged. He has failed to meet the issue squarely.

ACCORDING to a prophet who claims to have predicted the Mount Pelee disaster, the eruption of Mount Vesuvius and the San Francisco earthquake, the the end of the world or the "consummation of the age," will occur today—May 15. From the present condition of mundane things the seer's forecast is regarded about as much as was the preaching of Noah before the flood. Another, "prophet" yclept Lee Spangler draws the following horoscope of New York city:

New York is an ill-fated city, like San Francisco. A destructive earthquake will come to it within two years. It was communicated to me by the Lord that San Francisco was to be shaken to the earth and swept by fire because of its wickedness, but, ah me! San Francisco with its opium joints, its gambling resorts, its dens of vice, its cosmopolitan mixture of vagabonds and rogues, is not to be compared to sinful New York, the worst city in the world for high crimes. The real God of our fathers is no longer worshipped in the metropolis. The people there bow down to a new deity—the deity of the sordid and greedy, the hideous god Mammon! Wall street is the center of all the high crimes for which greed is responsible. The palaces that New York millionaires, with their ill-gotten gains, have reared will be shaken down upon their heads. Wall street will be laid in the dust. Skyscrapers will settle into the earth and fire will sweep the Island of Manhattan as it swept San Francisco. The Statue of Liberty will be thrown down like the great Colossus of Rhodes, because it is a mockery. Many towns will be destroyed. There will be great distress. The rich oppressors will be the greatest sufferers. Mobs of hungry men and women will rove over the island taking from the rich, stripping the bodies of the dead and looting the ruined mansions. All those churches in which hired sophists preach false doctrine— those churches where wealth reigns and the spirit of God is not—will be shaken down, never to be reared again, for they are false temples to a false God.

SENATE.

Speaking to a question of personal privilege, when the Senate met today, Mr. Tillman denounced an alleged interview which appeared in a Washington newspaper.

It quoted the Senator as declaring that Senator Aldrich, the republican leader, had in a conversation with him and Mr. Bailey, urged him to abandon his negotiations with the President and join with the Rhode Island Senator, "because you'll be in the Senate long after that man has left the White House," to use a quotation.

Mr. Tillman said he was not in the habit of giving out private conversations. "I want to say that I gave out no such interview," he declared.

Mr. Aldrich expressed gratification with the announcement. "I am glad the Senator has made such a disclaimer," he said.

Up to 2:25 this afternoon, the President's letter to Senator Allison regarding the Tillman-Chandler statement had not been presented to the Senate. Senator Allison says that at an opportune time he will send it up to the desk so that it may be read and inserted in the Record.

When this is done, Senator Tillman will make a response in which he will reiterate his original statement, deny that he sent Chandler to the President, and assert that the President does not make specific reply to the charge that he "threw down" the democratic leaders, after negotiations with them.

States Right Decision.

Justice Peckham yesterday delivered the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of the Travelers' Life Insurance Company vs. the Insurance Commissioner of the State of Kentucky in favor of the State. The case involved the constitutionality of the State law authorizing the revocation of permits given to foreign insurance companies to do business in the State when such companies remove to the federal courts cases brought against them in the State courts. The court held that such a law covers a right which a State may properly exercise. Justice Peckham said that a State may refuse to permit an outside company to transcet any business whatever within its borders. He, therefore, held that the State law is not in conflict with the federal constitution. Justice Day read a dissenting opinion, in which Justice Harlan concurred

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY.

President Roosevelt yesterday evening issued his response to the statements of Senators Tillman and Bailey and former Senator Chandler with reference to the negotiations for democratic alliance in the passage of the rate bill. This response came in the form of a letter addressed to Senator Allison, and was accompanied by the inclosure of a letter from Attorney-General Moody to the President.

Neither the letter of the President to Mr. Allison nor the letter of Mr. Moody to the President denies or contradicts the statement made by Senator Tillman in the Senate on Saturday, and no reference whatever is made to the question of veracity raised by Mr. Lodge between the President and Mr. Chandler as to the conversation between Mr. Chandler and the President.

In substance, as to its material point, the President's reply does not deny that he was committed to the general propositions of the amendment which was read in the Senate by Mr. Tillman as having been prepared by Mr. Moody and presented to him as representing the President's views.

The inclosure from Mr. Moody, in the main, confirms the statement made by Mr. Tillman, though it is manifest that a laborious effort has been made to make the statement of the President and that Mr. Moody conform. The note of transmittal from Mr. Moody to Mr. Bailey, under date of April 16, is liable to be misleading, as it relates to a particular point of the negotiation without referring to what had gone before or what followed it.

On the whole, the response from the White House is in the nature of a confession and an attempted avoidance.

Following is the President's letter:

THE WHITE HOUSE,
Washington, May 14, 1906.

My Dear Senator Allison:

As Senator Tillman brought in your name in connection with mine in the statement he made concerning our relations to the rate bill last Saturday, it is perhaps due to you that I should write you on the matter.

After the rate bill was reported from the committee, and after, by vote of the committee, Mr. Tillman had been put in charge of it, many Senators and many outsiders came to see me with reference to it. Among others I was asked to see ex-Senator Chandler, as representing Mr. Tillman, who was in charge of the bill. I stated in response that I was of course entirely willing to see Mr. Tillman personally or to see Mr. Chandler or anyone else who could speak for him, and I accordingly directed my secretary to make an appointment for Mr. Chandler to see me. My understanding was that he was the representative of Mr. Tillman. In this first interview he stated to me the views of Mr. Tillman, with seeming authority. He called on me several times.

During the same period I saw other gentlemen, who professed to give the views of other senators. In addition I saw numerous senators, both republicans and democrats, some of them once or twice, some of them many times. I also saw numerous outsiders, railroad men, shippers, newspaper men and students of traffic regulation, including especially the Attorney-General and the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and on two occasions I saw groups of newspaper men in a mass. To all of these—Senators, representatives of Senators and outsiders—alike I made the same statement; those that I made to Mr. Chandler being the same in substance that I made to you and to those of your colleagues, of both political parties, with whom I had an extended conference on the subject.

"The letter of the Attorney-General, which I inclose, shows fully the facts as to the conferences which, at my instance, he held with Senators Tillman and Bailey. Those conferences were precisely such as, at my instance, he held with many other Senators, to determine the phraseology and discuss the effect of amendments proposed by them.

"To all whom I saw I stated that the Hepburn bill was, in its essence, entirely satisfactory to me. The Hepburn bill, as it passed the House, simply recognized the right of review by the courts; that is, the jurisdiction of the courts, but did not attempt to define it, thus leaving the courts to prescribe the limits of their own jurisdiction. This was in accordance with the ideas of the Attorney-General, his belief being that thereby we avoided all danger of the bill being declared unconstitutional because of the attempt to confer either too much or too little jurisdiction on the courts.

"I also repeatedly stated that while it was satisfactory to me simply to leave the Hepburn bill in substance as it was—that is, with the recognition of the jurisdiction of the courts, but without any attempt to define that jurisdiction—yet that I was entirely willing that there should be a definition, provided that this definition did not seek to grant a broad review, but explicitly narrowed it to the two subjects which, as a matter of fact, I believe that the courts would alone consider in case there was no attempt to define the limits of their review; that is would limit it to the question as to whether the commission had acted ultra vires and as to whether any man's constitutional rights had been impaired. I stated that if the question of defining or limiting the review was brought up at all, I personally felt that this was the way in which it should be limited or defined.

"At different times at least a score of tentative amendments were either prepared by the Attorney-General at the request of Senators or submitted to me by Senators. As to many of these amendments, including among others the substance of the so-called Long, Overman, Bacon and Spooner amendments, I stated I should be entirely satisfied to have them in the bill; as to others I suggested modifications which would make them satisfactory; as to none did I ever say, either to Mr. Chandler or to anyone else, that I should insist upon having them in the bill as a condition of my approving it. On the contrary, I was always most careful to state that I was not trying to dictate any particular program of action. In no case either in the case of Mr. Chandler or in the case of anyone else, was there the slightest opportunity for any honest misconception of my attitude or any belief that I had pledged myself specifically to one and only one amendment or set of amendments, or that I would not be satisfied with any amendments which preserved the essential feature of the Hepburn bill as it came from the House You will doubtless recall that in the course of the several visits that you personally made me we discussed a number of these proposed amendments, trying to find out for which one there could be obtained a sufficient body of assent to secure its passage and the passage of the rate bill.

"To almost every amendment proposed by anyone I found that there were other excellent men who objected or who at least wished to change it, and I finally became convinced that it was impossible for Senators with advantage to use me as the intermediary in coming to an agreement with their colleagues, especially when they only communicated with me through another intermediary, and I earnestly suggested to all to whom I spoke that they should communicate with you, whose purpose and mine were identical. About this time I was informed by various democratic Senators that they could not come to an agreement upon any amendment and that the best chance for success lay in passing the Hepburn bill substantially unchanged. I was informed, and believed, that this was Senator Bailey's view, and a number of the republican Senators who favored the bill express the same opinion. Shortly after this you, in company with Senator Cullom, called upon me with the amendment which is now commonly known as the Allison amendment. I told you that while I should prefer the Long and Overman amendments, yet that your amendment was entirely satisfactory. Your amendment does not in the slightest degree weaken or injure the Hepburn bill. It merely expresses what the friends of the bill have always asserted was implied by the terms of the bill.

"I may add that my own opinion, that your amendment in no way changed, whether by diminishing or enlarging the scope of the court review as provided in the original Hepburn bill, is also the opinion of the Attorney-General, of Mr. Root and of Mr. Taft. Their judgment is that the amendment merely avoids the criticism that the Hepburn bill would be constitutionally invalid in not expressly providing the court review which its supporters have always contended was plainly implied in the original language.

"The original Hepburn bill stated that the venue for certain actions was in certain courts; the amendment states that these courts shall have jurisdiction to consider such actions. To my mind it seems difficult to assert that this works any change whatever in the principle of the bill. Yours sincerely,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"Hon. William B. Allison, United States Senate."

The Attorney General's letter gives an account at the President's request of the conference with Mr. Moody had by the President's direction with Senators Tillman and Bailey regarding the court review feature. He says he advised the President that he should not at any stage become finally committed beyond recall to any form of language in any part of the bill, and the President affirmed the wisdom of that course. He reviews the decision of interlocutory injunctions and concluded that there was nothing in the "conversations" between the senators and himself which bound the President to any particular amendment.

When Senator Tillman was seen last night he had already read the letters of the President and Attorney-General Moody. "I did not send Mr. Chandler to the President," said Senator Tillman. "If the President intends by his rather involved statement to insinuate that I did, he is beside the facts. I think the record of my relations with the present occupant of the White House would absolve me of the suspicion of seeking negotiations with him over this or any other matter. The letter of the Secretary to Senator Chandler sufficiently answers the insinuation—if it can be called that—that Mr Chandler was sent to him by me. I have Mr. Chandler's statement of how the negotiations were begun, and I have full confidence in every statement Mr. Chandler makes to me. The fact is I was very chary about entering upon any such negotiations; I smelled at the meat a long time before I took hold of it."

Discussing the merits of the President's statement in the letter to Senator Allison, Senator Tillman said: "Of course, it does not at all meet the issues that have been raised. The question of veracity is a mere side issue, but the charge of bad faith toward those with whom he was negotiating is something which I think the people of this country will feel should be met. As for Mr. Moody's statement that he did not assume to bind the President, that may be said to be a question of opinion. After the change had been made in the original draft of the amendment that had been prepared as setting forth the basis of agreement it was clearly understood on the part of Senator Bailey and myself that we were all to 'go ahead.'"

Mr. Chandler, when seen yesterday evening, said he "stands pat" on the written statement he has given to Mr. Tillman concerning his share in the negotiations. He added in connection with that portion of the President's letter which declared by inference that Mr Tillman had opened the negotiations that he (Mr. Chandler) had not been to the White House for fully a month before the President sent for him; that he had no intention of going there as the representative of Mr. Tillman did not ask him to do so, and that the first he knew of the matter was when he received a letter from Secretary Loeb asking him to call upon the President, and that when he did call at the White House the President fully outlined his purposes, Mr. Chandler is ignoring the issue of personal veracity raised by the President and said yesterday his chief concern was for the passage of a good and effective rate bill.

Martin Declared Winner.

Providence R. I. May 15.—The fight last night between Terry Martin of Philadelphia, and Larry Connelly of South Boston, at the Standard Athletic Club, at Lymansville, terminated very unsatisfactorily at the end of the fourth round after the Boston lad had forced Martin over the ropes. Both men had been fighting warily for the dozen minutes the bout lasted, and there was little to choose between them. In the fourth Connolly started after Martin in cyclone fashion, and with a lightning rush sent Martin over the ropes, going over himself and striking on his head. Both men had to be assisted back into the ring, and it was seen that Connolly was unfit to continue, the fight was awarded to Martin.

The Princess told the elder woman that she is unhappy with her present husband and hoped Rigo would return to her. She did not know whether this was likely, as Rigo refused a large sum of money which she cabled to him. Before leaving the village, the Princess erected a tombstone over the grave of Rigo's father, who died last year. She also distributed money among a crowd of persons who gathered to see her.

Explosion in a Mine.

Pottsville, Pa., May 15.—In the first litt of the East Buck slope of the Shenandoah City colliery, an explosion occurred at 7:30 o'clock this morning. The explosion was a most terrific one, and whether caused by gas or dynamite has not yet been fully determined. One report says a pocket of gas was ignited, while another says a miner was carrying a box of dynamite through a gangway and that this was either ignited by a spark from his lamp or that he let the box fall. About forty miners are entombed. Two bodies, black and unrecognizable, have been brought to the surface. Great excitement exists at the scene of the accident.

It is believed that the Sultan feels the rebuff by England keenly and which is likely to offset his prestige in the Mohammedan world.

Family Murdered.

A dispatch from Pensacola., Fla., says that W. G. Ackerman, an itinerant preacher, his wife, and seven children, the eldest between 18 and 14 years of age, were murdered Sunday night and their bodies cremated in their home, which was fired by the assassins.

The scene of the atrocious crime, is about ten miles north of Milton, Fla., in Santa Rosa county.

The crime was discovered yesterday morning by persons with whom Ackerman had an appointment, who found the home a mass of ruins, and the charred bodies of Ackerman, his wife, and seven children among the wreckage.

Details indicate that the father, mother and each of the seven children were murdered before the building was fired, as the skull of each was crushed and the body of Ackerman was found near the door leading from the bedroom in which he slept. By his side was a revolver.

The body of Mrs. Ackerman, who gave birth to a child on Friday last, was found, with that of her infant, outside of the sill at the front of the house. The eldest child was found near the door leading out to the front porch. The bodies of three boys were found practically where the bed upon which they slept stood previous to the conflagration. All of the bodies were badly burned, practically only the trunks remaining.

The country near by is sparsely settled, the nearest neighbor residing about one-quarter of a mile away

A fund of over $1,000 has been raised by the people of Milton, which will be offered as a reward for the apprehension of the murderers, and the governor has been appealed to to offer a reward on behalf of the State.

Ackerman moved to the settlement which was known as Allentown from Opp, Ala., about three years ago, and has always been considered a good and peaceful citizen. While he had no regular charge it was his custom to preach occasionally throughout his section of Santa Rosa county. He was not known to have had any enemies, and the motive for the atrocious crime is a mystery.

Girl on Trial for Murder.

Josephine Terranova, the 17-year-old Italian girl, who on the night of last Washington's birthday, it is alleged, stabbed to death her uncle and aunt, Mr and Mrs. Gaetano Reggio, in New York, because, as she afterward declared, the code of honor of her country demanded it, was put on trial for her life yesterday. The defense will be that the girl, because of the influence upon her of the teachings of her childhood and the great excitement under which she was laboring, cannot be held accountable for her act. She asserts that her uncle did her a great wrong. She did not realize it, she says, until after she was married. When her young husband, Giuseppe Terranova, learned of it, too, he left her. She brooded over her disgrace and desertion until she determined that her husband would never come back to her until she had avenged her honor.

Murderer to be Hanged.

Phares May, feudist, will be hanged at Marlington, W. V., next Friday. His accomplice, Burley Lamb, has been given a life term. Both were convicted of the murder of a Syrian peddler, Simon Slyman, last November, on a lonely mountain footpath, near Sinks, May's home.

In the course of the trial, which was one of the most sensational in the criminal history of the State, May's aged mother testified that her son had always been of a murderous disposition, and she firmly believed that the bones of eight or nine men would be found bleaching on the mountain sides—all victims of May's unerring skill with the rifle. Another sensational bit of evidence was the confession of Lamb, who was in May's employ as a farmhand. The boy said he was compelled to shoot the peddler or May would have killed him.

Eastern State Hospital.

Special Accountants H. D. Boudar & Son have about completed investigation of the books of the Eastern State Hospital at Williamsburg, and it is stated that no serious errors and no irregularities have been discovered, only such errors as are likely to creep in any ordinary business transaction.

It is stated, however, that the evidence given by the witnesses examined shows that the rules laid down by the board for the conduct of the institution have not been followed and that their publication will create a sensation. E. H. Clowes, former member of the board, and Dr. Foster, the superintendent, will testify at the next meeting of the investigating committee.

The Elks' Bazaar.

The armory was crowded with a good-natured throng last night when the Elks marched into the hall to open their great bazaar and flower carnival. All present expressed surprise and pleasure at the beauty of the decorations and the wonderful displays upon the many booths. The feature of the first night was the competitive drill by a team from the Alexandria Light Infantry under the command of Capt. Murphy. To the winner, Richard Talbot, a handsome gold medal was presented by the committee. Later in the evening the drawing for the first U. S. $100 gold bond took place, and the lucky number, 287, was held by Mrs. C. B. Marshall. A gold bond will be disposed of in this manner each night at 10:30. Fine music and an interesting programme is promised for tonight, it being the object of those in charge to increase the interest as the carnival progresses. Voting will begin tonight for a handsome loving cup to be given the most popular Odd Fellow in the city. Among those who have started in this race with a large number of votes are Messrs. P. M. Bradshaw, D. R. Stansbury, John Beach and Frank Elliott.

Wedding.

Mr. Whitman Rathbone Smith, of Fort Williams, Ont., and Miss Rebekah Harvey Barrett, daughter of Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, of this city, will be married at St Paul's Church at 8 o'clock tonight. The church has been beautifully decorated by the friends of the bride-elect and the wedding will be one of the prettiest of the season. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. P. P. Phillips and the groom's best man will be Mr. James McDonald, of New York. The bride's maid of honor will be her sister, Miss Lila Barrett, and the bridesmaids Misses Lucy Douglas, Bessie Herbert, Priscilla Dodson, Ann Colwell, Tibbie Waller and Kittie Barrett. The ushers will be Messrs, Taylor Burke, Harry Beverley, Richard Chichester, Charles Barrett, James S. Douglas and Mr. Tempest, the latter of Canada. After the ceremony a reception will be held at the residence of the bride's mother on Duke street and later Mr. and Mrs. Smith will leave on their bridal trip.

Ankle Injured.

Engineer Robert Purvis, of the Southern Railway, had one of his ankles seriously injured yesterday afternoon in the yard in this city. Mr. Purvis, who is a hostler, was in charge of a light passenger engine which was proceeding toward the union depot when two freight cars broke loose from a train some distance west and started on the down grade toward the engine. Mr. Purvis jumped from the engine in order to escape the result of the collision, and in doing so seriously injured one of his ankles. The cars struck the engine, but they were more damaged than the locomotive. The injured man was carried to the Alexandria Hospital.

After Delinquents.

The police are after persons who are charged with conducting business without licenses, and several delinquents were arraigned before Justice Caton in the police Court this morning to show cause why they should not be fined. Under existing laws a number of occupations are taxed which heretofore required no licenses. Those who pay for the required permission to transact business naturally protest against others, who have no licenses, entering into competition with them. The justice ordered some of the delinquents to take out licenses and dismissed the charges against others.

Luna Park.

Luna Park, the new summer resort, will be opened to the public on the 28th instant. All the modern amusement devices will be installed at this place and a fine band of music will be in attendance. This park is situated at Four-mile run, on the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway, equi-distant from Alexandria and Washington, and it will doubtless soon become one of the most popular resorts in this vicinity. Trains will arrive and depart at short intervals, and people living in either city can reach the park in a few minutes' time and return home at almost any hour up to midnight.

Primary Election.

The primary election in the Third ward today has been devoid of animation. Mr. J. R. N. Curtin, the present member of the Board of Alderman, has no opposition but Mr. J. F. Birrell is a contestant with W. H. Hellmuth and F. J. Pollard for the Common Council. The last two named are now representing the Third ward in lower board. Up to 3:30 o'clock but 24 votes had been cast.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Benjamin Scrivener, arrested by Officer Ferguson charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, was dismissed.

Llewellyn Lane, colored, arrested by Officers Lyles and Beach charged with an assault on George Twyman, had his case continued.

Car Overturned.

An oil tank car jumped the track and was overturned on the wharf at Shepherd's yesterday which damaged the structure considerably. The accident brought the transfer service of the B. & O. R. R. to a standstill until today. Orders have been issued for a double-crew for the transfer service. This arrangement will be continued during the vegetable and fruit season.

The Price of Ice.

The Mutual Ice Company deny the statement made yesterday to the effect that the price of ice has been increased from 40 to 50 cents per hundred pounds. The wholesale prices has, however, been raised from $4.50 to $5 per ton delivered. The retail price has not been changed

Personal.

The condition of Lieutenant Smith of the police force, who for the past week has been suffering from a carbuncle, has undergone but little change. Among his callers yesterday was Detective James McDevitt of Washington.

Mr. Marshall Dobie has gone to Lynchburg where he is visiting his sister, Mrs. Effie Leaf.

Miss Ida Hanckel, of Charlottesville, is visiting her sister, Mrs Marshall King, in this city.

Col. W. W. Harper has returned from a trip to Washington. While gone he also visited his brother, Mr. John Newton Harper, who is very ill at his home at Widewater, Stafford county. He is 83 years old, and has been in feeble health for some time.—[Orange Observer.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Eichberg announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Florence Eichberg, to Mr. Bernard Walter Ehrman, of Washington. The ceremony will take place Monday, June 11.

Admiral Richard Inch, U. S. N. (retired), was in the city Sunday visiting Mr. E. M. Birrell. The admiral is well known to a number of Alexandrians.

Mrs. George Johnston has gone to Virginia Beach to spend a few weeks. She was accompanied by her nephew, Dr. Llewellyn Powell.

The Board of Visitors to Mt. Vernon, of which Mr, C. B. Marshall of this city is a member, paid an official visit there today. Gov. Swanson was unable to be present.

Police Commissioners.

As was stated in the Gazette several days ago, the Board of Police Commissioners have adjourned subject to the call of the Mayor. It is said that the board desires to secure additional evidence against certain officers who have been charged with dereliction of duty, together with violations of certain rules, and other meetings will be held in the near future.

Cooler Weather.

The warm weather yesterday was followed at the close of the day by a fresh northeasterly wind and cloudy conditions. The temperature fell during the night, and this morning the weather was cool and threatening.

Death of Mrs. Bulger.

Mrs. Frances Bulger, wife of Mr. Norval V. Bulger, died at her home, No. 113 north St. Asaph street, last night. The deceased leaves two children.

Residents of Alfred street, between Prince and Duke, say that the sprinkling cart seldom appears on that square, and that the dust in consequence often becomes an annoyance. Complaint is also made that considerable trash is allowed to remain on that square.

The will of the late Arthur Howard was admitted to probate today. Mr. F. C. McClaren, to whom the deceased left his small estate, qualified as executor.

Preacher Objects to Millinery.

Rev. Robert M. Maxey, pastor of Union Station Methodist Episcopal Church in Richmond, has for some Sundays past been touching on local affairs in a most interesting fashion. On Sunday he made a number of observations about Sunday excursions, women's hats and riding street cars on Sunday.

Mr. Maxey objected to people taking the Sunday excursions to the seashore, instead of rest; such excursions were really a labor and wore one out. The preacher said that during the day he had taken a street car ride, had gone out to preach at the Confederate Home. "I suppose when people saw me they said: 'He kicked up the devil about dancing, and here he is riding on a street car on Sunday.' "But I went on a mission of mercy to save souls of those old men who have not very long to live."

After the sermon the preacher begged to make an announcement which he had forgotten at the opening of the service. He said that the weather was getting warm, and if the ladies would not dress up so much, and come without their hats, it would be much more satisfactory to the people who sat behind them. He said that formerly the style of ladies' head-gear had been large, round brims, but now they shot up high in the air at the back, which made it just as impossible to see past them.

A good complexion is impossible with the stomach out of order. If pasty sallow people would pay more attention to their stomachs and less to the skin on their faces, they would have better complexion, KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA will digest what you eat and put your stomach back right in shape to do its own work. Kodol relieves palpitation of the heart, flatulence, sour stomach, heart burn, etc. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King St.

Senator Gorman's Condition.

A friend of Senator Gorman, who is familiar with the invalid's condition, said yesterday that the Senator is too ill to be taken from his home in Washington to his country home, near Laurel.

It is said, that in addition to his heart, the Senator's stomach is affected. To this fact it attributed his weakness.

"Is Senator Gorman's condition alarming?"

"Yes and no. I say yes when I recall what may occur to any man with a weak heart. I say no when I call attention to Mr. Gorman's abstemious habits. If his stomach had been weakened by dissipation, his condition would be serious, but that is not the cause. He may, therefore, survive months, and even for two or three years or longer, but he will, of course, be in a weak condition more or less. This view of the Senator's condition is based upon those entirely familiar with it."

A Year of Blood.

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackets, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tacket's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
